CARRE'S IMPROVED ICE-MACHINE.

WITH THE NEW CONGELATOR FOR PRODUCING BLOCK ICE, TO BE HAD ONLY FROM

S. ROSE & CO., BOMBAY.

ICE IN FOUR MINUTES.

CARRE'S PNEUMATIC ICE-MACHINE,
WITH DECANTATOR AND CONGELATOR ATTACHED.
The only machine suitable for Domestic use; Cheap, Cleanly, and Easy to work; always ready for use, and never gets out of order.
Full particulars of the New Congelator can be had on application to S. Rose & Co.
Personal inspection of the new apparatus and its accessories is requested, and full practical instructions for using the Machine will be given to the agents or to the servants of purchasers.
The mode of producing Ice is by means of a Pneumatic Machine; the air in the Decanter or Vase is exhausted by the action of the air-pump, and the moisture arising from rapid evaporation, absorbed by the Sulphuric Acid contained in the Cylinder B, and intense cold in the Decanter or Vase, is the result of reducing the water to Ice.
For use in Up-country Stations, Messes, Hotels, Hospitals, and on board Ship, these Machines will be found invaluable; and their portability renders them most serviceable for Camp use. Within fifteen minutes the Machine can be fitted together, charged with acid, and the water at 85 deg. Fahrenheit can be reduced to freezing point.
An Illustrated Pamphlet, containing full directions for use, accompanies each Machine.
Apparatus for operating on one DECANTER or VASE with NEW CONGELATOR and ACCESSORIES, complete. Net Cash Rs. 190.
Ditto, ditto, on Two DECANTERS or VASES with NEW CONGELATOR and ACCESSORIES, complete. Net Cash, Rs. 375.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

THURSDAY EVENING, FEB. 26, 1880.

Consols are still quoted at 98¼, and French Rentes at 115. In Enfaced Rupee Paper Fours and-a-half are unchanged, but Fours are quoted £1 higher at £79-15, owing doubtless to the rise on this side.

A withdrawal from the Bank of England of £150,000 for South America is advised, but the Money Market is unchanged, the rate of discount on 3 months' bills being quoted at 2½ and on 4 months' at 3 per cent.

Copper and Cocoanut Oil remain unaltered in value, as also is Wheat, but Linseed is partially 3d. and Rapeseed 6d. to 9d. per quarter higher. Reuter quotes Copper, Yellow Metal, and Spelter at last Wednesday's prices.

Piece Goods in Manchester continue firm at practically unchanged prices.

Cotton in Liverpool yesterday opened firm with an upward tendency, but closed, according to private advices, quiet and easier, sale 10,000 bales. Spot prices were unchanged throughout, but arrivals were dull, the demand at the moment being apparently entirely on Americans. In New York yesterday ready Mid. Uplands was unchanged at 13¼ cents., but May shipment had receded from 13.53 to 13.42 cents per lb. The receipts at the U. S. ports to date give the following comparisons:—

	1880.	1879.	1878.
Wednesdays' Receipts.....	17,000	11,000	13,000
Five days' do.	67,000	73,000	63,000
Total since 1st Sept.....	4,150,000	3,783,000	3,529,000

At the weekly biddings for Council drafts on India in London yesterday Rs. 37,60,000 were allotted on Calcutta, and Rs. 2,20,000 on Madras at an average of 1s. 7·95d. and Rs. 5,20,000 on Bombay at an average of 1s. 7·94d., tenders on all three places at 1s. 7 15-16d. receiving 51½ per cent. of the amounts applied for. As compared with last week's biddings this shows a decline of 1-16d. per rupee, and Bar Silver is now quoted by Reuter at 52d. per oz.

Exchange.—Although the reduced rate obtained for Council drafts was in some measure expected, the confirmation of the anticipated decline has induced additional weakness here to-day, and rates opened at a fall of 1-16d. from yesterday's closing quotations From Calcutta a downward tendency is also advised, notwithstanding an advance of 1 per cent, in the Bank of Bengal's rates of discount, which places them 1 per cent. above the Bank of Bombay—and to all present appearance a further decline seems not unlikely. We quote:—

Bank Bills, on demand	1s. 7 15-16d.	per Rupee.
Do. 3 months' sight.	1s. 8 1-16d.	,,
Credits 3 ,, ,, ...	1s. 8 3-16d.	,,
Documents 3 ,, ,, ...	1s. 8 7-32d.	,,
Francs 3 ,, ,, ..	2·12½ to 2·13.	,,

On Calcutta we still quote demand drafts at 1-16 to ¼ per cent. premium, 60 days' sight nominal.

Government Paper.—The rapid advance in price yesterday afternoon, has brought out sellers; a considerable amount of paper originally bought for transmission to London being now offered for resale, and although the decline in values has not been marked, a decided reaction is apparent, and there are few buyers. The fact of no fresh loan being announced for this year certainly justified some advance, but the general opinion appears to be that it has been too rapid especially looking to the fact, that money must become dearer before long. We quote:—Fours-Rs. 96 to ¼; Fours-and-a-half Rs. 103. In Calcutta the quotations are Rs. 96½ and Rs. 103½ respectively.

Shares.—The market remains quiet but pretty firm. Bank of Bombay are unchanged at Rs. 682½ and there is no alteration in Land and Press Companies. Spinning and Weaving Mill shares are all firm, and we quote an advance of Rs. 5 in Alfred Manufacturing Company and Oriental, Rs. 10 in Dhurramsey and Manockjee Petit, Rs. 15 in Alliance and Rs. 20 in Hindustan.

Cotton has shown great irregularity to-day. We opened with a drop of Rs. 4 per candy from the highest rates named last night, and some business was done on this basis, but during the day sellers have shown rather more firmness, and at the close we are perhaps Re. 1 per candy higher. Arrivals yesterday were in round figures 9,000 bales, a scale of receipts which must soon bring us to a parity with home values.

Seeds are firm at unchanged prices.

Freights are very steady, but there is no quotable change in quotations, nor have we heard of any fresh charters.

Piece Goods are almost a dead letter at the moment as regards arrival business owing to depreciated exchange, but in the bazaar dealers show great firmness and are by no means willing sellers unless at top rates. The clearances are accordingly still very moderate, say about 250 packages per diem.

Coals are unaltered with no sellers to arrive.

MORE FIGHTING EXPECTED AT KOHISTAN.

ALLAHABAD, FEB. 26.

KABUL, Feb. 23.—Mir Saiad Khan, who is now at Istalif, professes to be a great ally of ours, and is anxious to destroy Khajee Saiad Khan's Fort at Kellaifuvat, but is restrained by Miraghat Jan, his brother, who is afraid of the consequences.

Mahomed Hassan Khan and Jabar Khan, on hearing of the rumour that a force is going from Sherpur to Logar, fled from Barakirajun to Patkhaosbumee, nine kos from Kotal, where seven hundred Kohistanis arrived on the 21st at Istalif, sent by Mahomed Surwan Khan to reinforce Mir Saiad Khan. They burnt three forts, full of grain, belonging to Khaja Saiad Khan. More fighting is expected at Kohistan.

It is reported from Argundeh that many traders are coming to Kabul with oil, barak, cloth, and sheep.

Mahomed Jan's whereabouts is not known, but some say that he is at Katawaz, and others at Ghazni.

Mustaufi Habeebulla Khan is at his home in Wardak, and Mahomed Jan is said to have cautioned him against communicating with him direct.

A telegram has been received asking the probable amount of transport required for moving a division.

Lieutenant Lumsden, son of General Sir Peter Lumsden, late Adjutant General in India, was stabbed in his tent at Kurram on the 20th. Whether with fatal effect, and whether the perpetrators have been arrested, is not known.

THE LUGHMAN VALLEY EXPEDITION.

JALLALABAD, Feb. 24.—General Bright has returned to his camping ground, near Asmatullah's Fort, having visited Baddiabad on the 19th.

Peer Mahomed Khan, brother of Faiz Mahomed Khan, fled with three hundred followers early in the morning from Buddiabad. His force halted on the 20th close to the Ootkheyl villages on the left bank of the river southwest of Mandrawar. On returning, the river was forded without difficulty or mishaps at the upper ford near Mandrawar. There appears nothing more to do in the Lughman Valley as it now has been explored and surveyed, but if an attack on Kabul is expected, the presence of our column there will prevent our movement in part.

Ghilzai Shahazada Syadmunar, son of the King of Bokhara, arrived here with his retinue of over one hundred and forty followers, including zenana en route.

At Peshawur a convoy of sick arrived from Kabu to-day.

THE Pioneer states that the rumour of the restoration of Yakub Khan to the throne is altogether unfounded.

As anticipated in our remarks of yesterday, Government paper has had a slight relapse. It was to be expected that the excitement would not be of long duration, for the simple reason that it was unnatural, and based on a flimsy foundation. The market opened firm in the morning, but the banks did not evince any great desire to operate for forward delivery, and that was the first sign of the weakness. Rates, too, were not quite so strong. It was rumoured that an operation had been put through the evening before at 96⅞ for 4 per cent. paper, but it turned out, as rumours always do in excited times, a fib. Calcutta rates came as follows:—96¾ for 4 per cent. and 103¾ for 4½ per cent., which were not so grand as the heated imaginations of would-be millionnaires had pictured them. A bank soon came out as a seller of five lacs 4 per cents. at 96⅞, and another local bank was a buyer. In half an hour another lot of two lacs was placed on the market by a well-known firm at 96⅞, and another bank sold the same amount at the same rate, and excepting small amounts here and there, we believe these were the only large transactions done yesterday. By evening the closing rates were 96¾ to ⅞ for 4 per cent. and 103¾ for 4½, and there was a decided disinclination to buy forward. Though there has been no great collapse in rates, still the tendency upwards, which at one time seemed very probable, is checked. It would be interesting to watch the future developments of the paper question. In sterling things are very quiet, owing to Council bills having gone at 1s. 7 15-16d., the banks lowered their demand drawing rate to that level. There were one or two strong buyers for forward delivery, but there was not a great inclination to draw forward amongst the banks, though we understand some business of that nature was done. The state of the silver market and exchange have disappointed everybody and have very likely played the deuce with the calculations of many people who had counted on being able to send forward funds at a good rate during the active season. But considering our cotton season has been rather late, and the rice season has but just commenced, it would not be unreasonable to expect a rally in the rates later on. Silver is generally quoted at 52d., but one or two private telegrams quote it at 52 1-16d. Of course this does not make much difference. Paper at home has gone up too, but not quite to the extent it has gone up here.

A CLAIM for damages for loss of life was heard before Mr. Justice Bayley at the High Court yesterday in a suit brought against the British India Steam Navigation Company by the widow and administratrix of John William Hamilton, a Eurasian telegraph signaller. The deceased was a passenger by the company's steam ship Madura from Bombay to Kurrachee in November, 1878. In anchoring the vessel in the port of Veraval, the native seamen performed the operation so negligently and unskilfully that Mr. Hamilton, while leaning on the side of the vessel, had his left leg severed above the ankle by a rope striking him, and was hurled into the sea. He was picked up and taken on board, but there was no medical officer or surgical instruments on board, and he received no medical treatment except such as was bestowed upon him by a hospital assistant, who happened to be a fellow passenger. On the arrival of the vessel at Kurrachee, he was taken to the General Hospital, where his injuries were attended to, but he died on the 16th November, 1878, a few hours after admission. He had left behind him three children of tender years and his widow, who brought the suit to recover Rs. 20,000 damages. The company's defence was that the accident was in no way caused by any negligence on the part of their servants, and that they were not liable to pay the plaintiff any damages. After the plaintiff's examination was over Mr. Mathopson, for the defendants, offered to pay her Rs. 7,000, but Mr. Russell for the plaintiff asked for no less than Rs. 10,000; and as the demand was not acceded to, the hearing proceeded, but had not closed at the rising of the court.

YESTERDAY, at the High Court, the Hon'ble Mr Justice Bayley passed a decree absolute for a dissolution of the marriage of Annie Cecilia Brown with John Richard Brown, some years ago a medical practitioner in Bombay, on the grounds of adultery, cruelty, and desertion on the part of the husband.

AS an instance of the feelings entertained by the inhabitants of Goa in reference to the Anglo-Portuguese Treaty, we may mention the fact that a new journal is about to be started with the expressive title "Grundos de Povo"—Weepings of the People.

IT is officially notified that the practice of notching, or marking, or otherwise defacing coin, renders coin so defaced liable to be rejected when tendered for payment, and that it is the intention of Government, from and after the 1st of August, to refuse such coin in payment of Government demands. It is further notified that up to the 31st of July all such defaced coin of full weight will be freely exchanged for legal coin at any Government Treasury. Defaced coin, which has lost 2 per cent weight otherwise than by reasonable wear, will be accepted at the rate of one rupee a tola.

FRUIT-GROWING promises to become a profitable form of cultivation in the Himalayan districts. Recent experiments by Sir Henry Ramsay, the Commissioner of Kumaun, and by the Superintendent of the Government nurseries founded by Sir William Muir at Banikhet, as well as by one or two planters in Kumaun, prove that apples can be raised with great success on the Himalayas. Large quantities of young trees have already been distributed in the Government nurseries. The fruits, which are intended to be the staple products of the orchards in Kumaun, are apples and chestnuts, which both admit of export to the plains. Large quantities of fruit, chiefly apples and dried stone fruits, are brought annually from Kabul to India, and there seems no reason why Kumaun should not add to, and improve the supply by the production of the best European varieties. During the last year it appears that 10,000 apple seedlings were raised in the Ranikhet nurseries.

THE Government of the Punjab is evincing considerable interest in the silk industry. An exhibition of silk cocoons was held at Nurpur on 25th April, 1879, and a report on the subject, with others of the same nature, has just been issued. The number of exhibitors was 305 as against 135 in the previous year, and the quantity exhibited 70 maunds 20 seers, against 33 maunds and 14 seers at the previous meeting. The sum of Rs. 499-8 was distributed in rewards, and the general impression of the committee was that the industry was steadily gaining ground in the estimation of the people. Extensive plantations of mulberry trees have been laid out, and an experiment tried with the castor-oil plant, on the leaves of which certain silk worms feed; but this turned out a failure, the plant not having sufficient strength to resist the Punjab winter. For this variety of worm, it is proposed to cultivate the castor-oil plant afresh every year, in certain suitable localities. One great difficulty in that district is the effect of the periodical hot winds, which is said to destroy large numbers of the worms. On this account, there seems at the greater reason why the castor-oil leaf-feeding variety of worm should be attended to, as it has been found that it is not so much affected by the hot winds. We read in a Calcutta paper that an English firm has sent an agent, with a liberal credit, to commence operations on a large scale, and by means of advances in money and eggs to encourage the industry among the natives, the firm undertaking to purchase the entire produce for cash. This may tend to develop a useful and eminently suitable industry among the natives of the Punjab.

THE Maharaja of Ulwar has been sight-seeing in Ceylon. He left Colombo on the 18th instant for Tuticorin.

THE Har Sahai case, which attracted much attention some months ago, has not yet quite died out of sight. The Pioneer states that it has left as a legacy, a most unpleasant and bitter feud amongst "the Har Sahaians and the Saundersites" of the district, which shows itself in an attempt to make Mr. Brodhurst Judge of Benares, who was president of the commission before whom the celebrated case was tried, to feel socially the disapproval the decision excited.

A CHANGE has recently taken place in the staff of the Persian Gulf Residency which has excited some comment. Mr. Edwards, the late Second Assistant, whose post was abolished from the 31st December, 1879, has retired from the Residency, where he had served with credit for nearly 36 years. The reason for Mr. Edwards's removal is matter for conjecture, as he was generally considered the right man in the right place. The present change has no economical effect, as the pension that Mr. Edwards is entitled to is equal to the pay of an assistant. It is stated that Mr. Edwards's removal from the Residency is matter for regret to all persons concerned, and especially to Colonel Ross, who loses his able assistance.

THE season reports for the week ending 23rd instant state that weather during the week has been cold, and that slight rain has fallen in parts of Gujarat and Sind. One death from cholera has taken place in Poona, but there are no fresh cases in Igatpuri.

WITH the view of facilitating the transport of stores and war materials for the front, ten light type engines, which had been taken on loan from the E. I. R. for the use of the Punjab Northern State Railway, have been purchased by Government.

THE Kabars employed in the transport department between Kabul and Peshawar seem not very well content with their lot, as no less than 136 of them going with a convoy to Peshawar lately deserted. Means are being taken to arrest them, but it is not stated whether any success has attended the attempt.

IT would be an advantage if all military tents for field service were made of khaki coloured cloth, and not of white, as is now the rule. White is far too conspicuous, and even on a dark night offers a distinguishable mark for the bullets of an enemy. Another improvement would be to modify the company or sepoy-pal, so as to enable its occupants to divide it into two separate tents. This want of divisibility is a great drawback, as piquets, detached guards, and small escorts need a light portable tent, which often cannot be supplied them. The tent poles of all tents used in hill campaigns should be socketed in the centre, so as to take asunder for mule transit.

A DISPUTE has arisen between the Post Office authorities and the Orient Steamship Company on the subject of the mails. The Company desire to have the advantages which pertain to the carrying of the mails. The Government, however, have contracted with the Peninsular and Oriental Company, and for any letters, therefore, which the Orient may carry the Government decline to give more than the statutory penny. The Orient Company, however, contend that the rate for "ship letters" need not necessarily be so small as a penny, and they desire the Post Office to enter into a special bargain with them. The Postmaster-General declines to do so, and the Company have therefore announced that they will take no mails. Letter bags will be offered to the ship captain, and if he refuses to carry them, he will be prosecuted.

IN the expectation of war with Russia two years ago, it was decided to strengthen the fortifications of Singapore, as well as those of some of our Indian ports. Work was commenced at once, and the foundations of forts were rapidly prepared. Now, however, that war's alarms have passed, the Straits Times tells us that "the fortifications are degenerating fast into relics of the past. A blight seems to have descended on the forsaken tracts; the heavy rains hold orgies on the Tom Tiddler's ground." The same description would apply to some of the fortifications hastily commenced in India.

IT appears to have been decided to place the administration of the affairs of Mysore in the hands of the Maharajah and his native advisers from the 1st January, 1881. Most of the European officials in the Commission will have to retire, or be provided for elsewhere at the end of the current year.

AT a general court-martial on the 23rd ult. No. 2091 Jemadar Venketsawmy, of the 14th Madras Native Infantry, was sentenced to be suspended from rank, pay, and allowances for four months, on being found guilty of "conduct unbecoming his position and character as a native officer" in having been found in a state of intoxication on the public road in company with naik Cooposawmy, of the same regiment, who was also intoxicated.

THE increasing practice amongst natives of India of adopting European customs was curiously illustrated by the account of the late two grand balls given in Calcutta lately by wealthy Rajas. The invitation card to one of these balls bore the monogram of a rajah with the device and inscription of a Hindu god below—a curious compound of orthodoxy and heterodoxy. Though dancing is not dissociated with Krishna, the fact of his name being invoked in connection with European balls is something new.

WE hear it is more than probable that Colonel Weldon, the Chief Presidency Magistrate of Madras, now on special duty at Rangoon, shall be the Judge-Advocate General of the Madras Army, in succession to the late Colonel G. P. B. Sherard. Colonel Weldon will thus supersede the Deputies, Wilson and Power. A Madras paper says that Major Hallett would have had every chance of the appointment but for his being too junior in the service.

WE learn that Lieutenant-Colonel H. T. Rogers, R.E., Superintendent, Madras Revenue Survey office, is about to proceed to England on two years' furlough, when, we understand, Mr. F. C. Puckle, M.A., Deputy Superintendent, Revenue Survey (who is now, under reduction of establishment, to retire at the end of March next) is to be appointed Acting Superintendent in the room of Lieut.-Colonel Rogers.

A NATIVE paper published in Yokohama states that Le Hang Chang, Sa So To, and other Chinese generals, are diligently engaged in bringing the military system of the empire into a complete state, but that their progress is very slow, and there are as yet only 35,000 men fairly trained in the European military style and equipped with proper arms.

THE writer of "The Week" in the Englishman's Saturday Evening Journal complains of a difficulty he experiences in forming a clear idea of the progress of events in Afghanistan. He writes:—When the specials themselves are at fault for the correct name, and describe an individual who is besieging another in a fort as "Mir Batcha's wife's father," I am forced to ask, how is history to be correctly written? It may be that Mir Batcha is a mere batcha, and so has sent out his wife's father to act for him, not being yet of age to indulge in such mere butchery, but I repeat, that it is not the way that contemporary history ought to be written to be "understanded of the people." I have been reduced to such a state of mental confusion in trying to understand who has gone in to pay his respects to General Roberts or General Bright, or where they have come from, that it seems to me as if all the news from Kabul during the last week were a sort of wild edition of the Court Circular, merely chronicling the visits to one another of fashionable persons.

COMMENTING on the late additions to the Chinese naval force, a correspondent of the Shanghai Courier writes:—"The terrible alphabetical gunboats, which have inspired the Pall Mall Gazette with such alarm and such a lofty notion of Chinese warlike preparations, and of the value of China as an ally, are at Tientsin where they are to be frozen in during the winter, a singular use to put these tremendous engines of warfare to! They rather block up the fairway of the river, and as the steamer Eldorado was dropping down the stream, she managed to give one of them a blow with one of the blades of her screw; this made a hole in the side of the gunboat, but as the shot and shell were promptly removed to the other side, she did not take in much water. But if the hulls of these gunboats are so penetrable, where is the cause for the alarm of the Pall Mall's paragraphist, who is thought to be a gentleman of many years in the employ of the Chinese Government at Foochow? We have heard before of some defects in these vaunted vessels of war. It is said that when the guns are fired the rivets of the plates start."

A WRITER in the Hochi Shimbun, a Japanese paper, puts forward a new and rather ingenious, if not very credible, view with regard to the Japanese occupation of the Loo Choo Islands,—namely, that it was done to prevent any of the Western Powers seizing them; that Japan never wished to quarrel with China, nor to go to the expense incident to the occupation of the islands, except for the above reason, and that China and Japan would be strengthened by taking possession of the group, to keep foreigners from doing so.

REGARDING Russia-China affairs, and the prosecution of the Chinese ambassador for returning from St. Petersburg without permission, the North China Herald writes:—We hear that the case of H. E. Ch'ung-how, late Ambassador to Russia, looks worse every day as further information leaks out. It is said, as our readers are aware, that he has been impeached by both the Grand Secretaries Li and Tso. Censor also has satisfactorily bringing forward the case of Ch'i-ying in 1860 as parallel and urging that Ch'ung-how's offence is even worse than Ch'iying's, since the latter had more reason for fear, hostilities having commenced; and recommending strongly that he should be put to death. We fear the combination against the late Ambassador is too strong, and that if he escapes with his life he may be thankful. We believe that H. E. Ch'ung-how is the unfortunate medium through whom an attack is made on the Kuldja Treaty; and expect to hear in a few days that that instrument has been repudiated by the Peking Government.

Broad Arrow has the following:—A curious case has just been decided against a trooper of the 16th Lancers by the sentence of a month's imprisonment for fraudulent enlistment. The facts were simply these. The prisoner, evidently a fine-looking soldier, for his material appearance seems to have struck the Brighton Magistrate, stated that he "had enlisted when a young lad, and served for twelve years, when, having more money than sense, he went on the spree, fell in with some Lancers, and thoughtlessly enlisted under a false name, thinking that his father, who was an officer, might be able to get his former service restored in his favour." He considered it "hard that re-entrance into the army should be refused because he had served twelve years." It does seem impolitic to reject the services of a man in the prime of life, even although his moral character, according to the undoubtedly higher military standard, might be irreproachable.

MORTUARY RETURNS.—The total number of deaths registered during the week ending Tuesday, 24th inst., was 491, being 15 less than in the previous week, 17 less than the total of the week ending 25th Feb. 1879, and 42 less than the mean of the corresponding period in the preceding five years. During the week 338 births were reported in the different districts of the city. The rate of mortality per 1,000 of the population per annum was 37·84. There were 138 deaths from remittent fever, being 26 less than in the previous week, and 34 more than in the same period last year. There were 2 deaths from cholera last week as compared to none in the week previous. The deaths from diseases to the respiratory system, diarrhœa, and dysentery were last week 40, 9, and 22, respectively, as compared with 50, 22, and 31 last year. The following remark is appended by the Health Officer to his return:—"As there is no allowance made for the increase of population, natural and extraordinary, during recent years, the percentage of mortality are unreliable."

A STRIKE AMONG THE G. I. P. R. WORK-PEOPLE.—About four thousand workmen, belonging to the G. I. P. Railway Company, struck work on Wednesday morning, and proceeded in a body at 10-30 a.m. and assembled in Apollo Street, opposite the Agent's office. On being informed by the Agent that he could not render them any redress, they marched off to the P. W. Department Office, where six of the muccadums of the different gangs went and saw Major Marryat in the absence of Major Oldham, the Consulting Engineer for Railways. Major Marryat took down the statement of their grievances and told the men that there would be enquiries made regarding the matter. They then held a meeting on the green west of the Post Office, and, after an interval of an hour, they quietly dispersed. The men appeared to be very orderly. The workmen consisted of a few Europeans, Eurasians, Goanese, Parsees, Hindoos, Mahomedans and Jews. The men were consulting about going to Government House, Malabar Point, but changed their intentions after the interview with Major Marryat. Their grievance is alleged to be that they have been required to work an extra hour per day. They have been promised extra pay for the one hour, but the workmen seem to be of opinion that the extra pay will be given them for a month or two at most and that eventually they will have to work the extra hour without the allowance.

A DECREE ABSOLUTE FOR DIVORCE.

IN the case of Annie Cecilia Brown against John Richard Brown, some years ago a medical practitioner at Bombay, Mr. Vicajee, instructed by Mr. Turner, on behalf of the petitioner, applied to Mr. Justice Bayley at the High Court yesterday for a decree absolute for a divorce. The parties were married on the 11th January, 1869, and had four children, a son and three daughters, now residing with the petitioner. On the 20th June, 1879, after hearing evidence in the case, his Lordship granted in favour of petitioner a decree nisi for a divorce on the grounds of adultery, cruelty, and desertion on the part of the respondent, unless sufficient cause to the contrary was shown by him within six months. A copy of the rule had been sent by post to the address of the respondent to Shanghai and Foochow; and it appeared from a letter, written by him from Japan on the 16th May, 1879, to the Prothonotary of the Court, that he was cognizant of the proceedings taken against him, and that he had no objection to the decree being made absolute. The husband had been pronounced to be quite unfit for taking care of the children; and under section 43 of the Act, Mr. Vicajee asked that the mother be entrusted with their custody. His Lordship passed a decree absolute for dissolution of marriage, directing that the petitioner should have the custody of the four children. The respondent was ordered to pay the costs of and incidental to the decree absolute.

ROYAL BOMBAY YACHT CLUB.

THE yachting season was opened by this club on Wednesday evening by a cruise round Butcher's island. There was a favourable breeze, and the vessels being skilfully handled, their passage through the beautiful harbour was a very pretty and interesting sight. The steamer May Frere having on board a large party of ladies and gentlemen, including several members of the club, accompanied the yachts, and her passengers had full opportunity of observing the sailing qualities and the navigation of the craft. Refreshments were provided on board, and the Volunteer band at intervals played some excellent music. The pleasant excursion was brought to an end shortly before eight o'clock. A dinner was afterwards held at the Town Hall, under the presidency of the commodore, Captain Morland, and was attended by H. E. the Governor, H. E. Admiral Gore-Jones, most of the members of the Club, and a number of ladies and other guests. After dinner the President proposed the toast of the Queen-Empress, which was duly honoured.

In giving "The Health of the Prince and Princess of Wales and the rest of the Royal family," the President spoke of H. R. H. as an enthusiastic yachtsman, who owned the Hildegarde and the Formosa, and would with the latter vessel take part in the forthcoming regatta at Nice. The other members of the Royal family also took great interest in yachting, and this interest was shared by the great majority of the English people, who being born and bred islanders, seemed to have naturally a love of the sea and all things pertaining to navigation. He believed that if the interest taken by the Royal family in yachting were the only recommendation which they possessed, the Bombay Yacht Club would receive the toast with warm sympathy and with hearty good will. (Applause.)

The President then proposed "The Health of H. E. Sir Richard Temple." As loyal subjects they were always ready to drink the health of the Governor, but he hoped they would allow him on that occasion to allude to his Excellency specially as a patron of the Royal Bombay Yacht Club, and that they would, in that capacity, drink his health. Since His Excellency had been in Bombay and had his bungalow under his auspices, the club had prospered, and this was in a great measure due to the kindness of the Governor, and the encouragement which he had given them. The interest which His Excellency had taken in the club had been the means of bringing it to its present flourishing condition, and enabled them to entertain their friends on that occasion. The Royal Bombay Yacht Club had not always been in such a prosperous state. He could remember that in the early period of its existence it had but few vessels and few members, and the occasions on which meetings were held were also few and far between. The cyclones that happened in Bombay wrecked the yachts and in due course many of the members returned to their native country or were scattered abroad elsewhere, Considerable difficulty was therefore experienced in keeping them together, and, indeed in calling them a yacht club at all. But when they got the title of "Royal" members came forward more readily, and with that valuable assistance (Hear, Hear) they had been able not only to hold their own but to advance. (Applause.) He had kindly placed at their disposal his beautiful steamer the May Frere, and this of course had added—had greatly added—to the popularity of the club. They all he (the President) was sure hoped that this was not the last occasion on which they would see His Excellency at their entertainment. They were aware he was about to leave the shores of India for, they trusted, even a more brilliant career than that which he had already passed through. (Applause.) Their Governor would not leave India without their most heartfelt good wishes, and in proposing his health as a patron of the Royal Bombay Yacht Club, he (the President) did so with the full certainty, that the toast would be received in the most cordial and enthusiastic manner by the members of that Club. (Applause.)

His Excellency, in responding, said—Until I opened this interesting volume containing the menu of the dinner, the programme of music, and list of toasts, I had really no idea that I should be called upon to address you this evening, but as I am afraid that you will not in Bombay allow me to plead the excuse that I am unaccustomed to public speaking, (Laughter) I fear I must endeavour to do justice to the toast. I can in the most tremely kind manner in which you have received me this evening. (Applause.) But I am placed somewhat at a disadvantage because, like the First Lord of the Admiralty in the princess of "H. M. S. Pinafore." I have this after noon stuck to the desk and did not go to sea, and therefore, though I am not exactly a "rol r of the Queen's navee" in consequence, yet I have an almost equal honour in being toasted by the Royal Bombay Yacht Club and in being called upon to respond to the toast. [Applause.] Well, ladies and gentlemen, I have just been informed by the highest naval authority, namely, His Excellency Admiral Gore-Jones, that the sailing performance this evening were of an extremely creditable character from a nautical point of view. Considering the large number of members on our list and altogether regarding the appearance which the vessels have made, I may congratulate the commodore, Major Morland and the vice-commodore, Major Bayley. I hope the Admiral will excuse me in this somewhat singular mi- [illegible] ture of the naval and military titles. (Laughter.) But more particularly may I congratulate rear commodore Jackson, who, though a gentleman of the long robe has shown himself to be an accomplished navigator. He is the owner and navigator of the Water Queen, and the Water Queen has a history. But she is at this moment being navigated by a select party of ladies and gentlemen who have prepared a moonlight trip in the harbour to attending this festive board. They will probably be becalmed as the Zephyrs are blowing so softly this evening and that will make them late for the wedding to-morrow morning. (Laughter.) The commodore has just mentioned to you that the yacht club has not always been popular. But remember, this Water Queen was built by a member of Council, which shows that in former days the yacht club was highly fashionable. Next on the list is the Ianthe. She is owned by Mr. Grant who knows well how to navigate her. He is unable to attend this evening's entertaiment; perhaps the waves were a little too much for him. (Laughter.) The Ianthe was constructed under the direction of the Commander-in-Chief of the Indian navy, Sir H. Leeke, therefore she has some of the associations and traditions of the Indian Navy, that navy which was once so remarkable for the daring achievements of its officers and also for their scientific work. (Applause.) Although we may regret the loss of the Indian Navy we are still honoured at this entertainment by the presence of the Admiral, and in the harbour by the presence of the flagship and other vessels of the Roya navy, so that, after all, our last state is better than our fire (Applause.) On this occasion I have to announ cing that this year three vessels have been added to thei fleet, the Fairy which is the vessel of the Port Officer, namely, the commodore himself, who sets the most possible nautical example to all the rest of the fleet every Tuesday then there is the vessel owned by commercial gentlemen, Mr. Byrne and Mr. Mackinnon, the latter of whom is the agent of the British India Steam Navigation Company. These vessels have to be manned, and I observe with pleasure named after some of the ladies belonging to that distinguished company. Then we have on the list the yacht Rustom, navigated by Dr. Cody and Dr. Doolittle, two medical gentlemen. The last named gentleman does much on land, and when he is on the water he is always with Doolittle but Dr. Do Much. (Laughter.) Then there is the Wandle, named after a classical stream in England; she is owned by Mr. Clark and Mr. Jordan, who belong to the Financial Department. On an occasion like this they are sailors first and financiers afterward. (Laughter.) The next vessel is the Sylph, owned and navigated by Mr. Carrol, a scientific friend of ours belonging to the Locomotive Department. I am sure he says to himself, "Talk of those puffing and groaning engines on land, why the poetry of motion is on the water." (Laughter.) Then we have the Kathleen, a fine old vessel, owned and navigated by Captain Carew, of the Marine Department, and he also, like Captain Morland, sets the best possible example to the young navigators of Bombay. Then there are three excellent vessels which are now laid up for want of owners, and which, on the authority of your commodore, I venture to recommend strongly to the best attention of the navigators of Bombay. The first is the Sea Queen, and she, like the others I have mentioned, has a history. She was once the Governor's barge and was turned into a yacht under the direction of the chief of the Indian navy. She has considerable accommodation and is admirably suited for those navigators who like to take parties of ladies and gentlemen for moonlight excursions in Bombay harbour. (Laughter.) Perhaps she is also the slowest. She is somewhat slow, but she is sure and took Dr. Franklyn and Dr. Hunter out to sea off the Concan coast and Dr. Hunter out to sea, right down the coast of the Koncan. Then there is another vessel named the Tiny, and she has the point—a very important point in a keel, which is a technical expression for an American invention. The Americans, as you know, are next after England, the greatest nautical yachting sportsmen in the world, and though they may possibly not be equal to us in the British Channel, it may be doubtful whether they are not the greatest ocean yachtsman, and they have done much to carry yachts right across the Atlantic. This completes the list of fourteen yachts belonging to the Bombay Royal Yacht Club. Why a second class maritime power of Europe would think a great deal of having fourteen ironclads, and why then should not we pride ourselves on having fourteen yachts in the harbour (Applause) I hardly we should not forget the May Frere, commanded by Captain Fenn, who this afternoon carried with him the fairest and most interesting freight possible, namely a large number of the ladies of Bombay. But, remember, he has to carry on his next trip a quantity of dynamite which is to blast away the rocks of the mountains of Afghanistan on the railway to Kandahar, and considering the highly explosive character of his freight, you must wish him "God speed" in that expedition. (Applause.) There are many things of which this harbour may boast, and of which we are apt to be proud—our 150,000 tons of shipping, all available for conveying troops to the Mediterranean, China, and Africa, our 30,000 pattimar-boats clearing in and out of the harbour annually, our Oyster Rock battery, torpedoes on Butcher's island, all that fine anchorage for a merchant fleet in the lee of Elephanta Island, but what are all these compared to the grandeur, the magnificence of the Royal Bombay Yacht Club with its commodore, vice-commodore and other officers! And then think of all the beautiful birds which we see dipping their graceful long outstretched necks in the waters of Bombay harbour or Back Bay. What is their plumage compared to the brilliant costumes of the British ladies at the Royal Yacht Club regatta? Why the fairest of all the fair birds that skim the waters of Bombay are the ladies of Bombay. (Applause.)

The President proposed "The Army, Navy and Volunteers," and in doing so observed that good wine needed no bush. The navy was perfectly ready to do its duty though we call it lightly been made for its active service. But within the memory of all the British fleet had been ordered to the Dardonelles in the recent difficulties with Russia, They had an efficient squadron in the Eastern seas; and they had with them that evening the Admiral and Chief Naval Commander-in-Chief, and it was with great pleasure he asked them to couple with the toast the name of Admiral Gore-Jones. [Applause.] With regard to the army they heard daily of the noble deeds and of the part it had taken in upholding the honour of England in Afghanistan, and any words he could command would not bring more clearly to their minds' eye the gallant and noble services of the British army. They had with them an officer of that service who was distinguished and well known, and he would therefore couple with the toast the name of Colonel Holberton. [Applause.] As to the Volunteers, they were indebted to the Bombay corps for their music that evening, and numbered among their company several well known members. It was a satisfaction to know that if any difficulties arose which the civil power would be unable to cope with alone, the Volunteers would be ready and willing at all times to come forward and assist the civil power in keeping order. With this portion of the toast he would couple the name of a well known and distinguished legal gentleman as the senior officer present—Major Bayley. [Applause.]

Rear-Admiral Gore-Jones in reply said he regretted that on the first occasion of his rising as a guest of the Bombay Yacht Club he had to lodge a complaint. The complaint was that the toasts were not arranged in the usual manner. As a rule the toasts were placed at the beginning of the list so that the small guns might go off first, therefore he thought that the toast to which he responded, it ought to have been given before the big guns were fired. [Laughter.] But he was glad in replying to the toast to know that it was unnecessary to dwell at any length upon those horrible vessels which were called "men-of-war" and which were filled with all the implements for the destruction of human life that human ingenuity could devise. It was also unnecessary, he thought, to speak of the heavily freighted ships carrying the commerce of England to and from every shore; and the great ocean steamers that bridge the seas over carrying thousands of passengers writhing in all the horrors of sea sickness and wishing they were dead. [Laughter] That night a much pleasanter theme was offered them, for they had to celebrate the advent of the return of those swallows of the ocean which they called yachts. They came when the sky was clear and the sea smooth, and all was sunshine and brightness, and like the birds of which they were a type they separated when angry clouds arose and the seas roughened. They were more typical of the genius of the English nation than their heavier brethren the men-of-war and the merchant ships whose seamen went down to the great waters—in one case as

BEST QUALITY TRIPLE ELECTRO-PLATE.
MANUFACTURED TO THE SPECIAL ORDER OF
C. MARCKS AND COMPANY,
BOMBAY, 4, Hummum Street. POONA, 1, East Street.
WE long hesitated before undertaking this important branch of business, as we are aware of the immense amount of inferior articles manufactured and sold as the best quality (Electro-plate having so many qualities) by unscrupulous traders and eventually giving no satisfaction to purchasers.
After mature deliberation we have had a large quantity made expressly for us by a leading firm, and as our goods are triple-plated (i. e., have undergone the silvering process THREE TIMES), thereby ensuring a heavy coating of PURE SILVER on superior hard white metal), we can guarantee them to stand ordinary usage for twenty years.
We specially invite the attention of Presidents of Clubs, Hotels, &c., &c., to our stock of goods. Amongst others we recommend the following:—
